Projects:

Omni P3 | Smart Retail Operations & Inventory Intelligence
Domain: Retail & E-commerce

- Led end-to-end UX execution of an enterprise design system, reusable components, interactive prototypes, and tokenised UI elements, with handoff specs that Flutter and React teams could build directly.
- Designed complex and data-heavy dashboards tracking real-time inventory velocity, batch price adjustments, stockout risk alerts, and operational forecasts.
- Boosted floor operational productivity by 10% to 15%, cut reprinting overhead, significantly lowered stockout rates, and achieved a 25% user adoption rate alongside a 20% lift in customer engagement.
- Ran contextual inquiries and quick usability tests with ops managers and floor associates in 2-week sprints, and fed findings straight into the next iteration.

VeloCare | Unified Automotive Service & Garage Ecosystem
Domain: Automotive & Mobility

- Designed a service management platform connecting vehicle owners, technicians and dealers to fix the hand-off gaps where service jobs and messages kept getting lost between them.
- Built an analytical dashboard where site managers see bay occupancy, technicians check their jobs, tools and parts, and owners keep an eye on revenue, plus a real-time scheduling view.
- Shipped QR-based check-in that cut intake time by 45%, improved diagnostic accuracy by 8%, automated invoice billing and maintenance reminders to keep dealer pipelines steady.
- Spent time in service bays watching technicians work and digging into behavioural patterns, then cut admin steps that were eating into their focus.

PrintAR | Augmented Reality Print Ops & Fleet Management
Domain: Enterprise IoT Devices

- Designed an AR-driven mobile platform for real-time hardware discovery and interactive troubleshooting to fix common hardware faults on the spot, replacing static PDF documentation.
- Turned dense IoT telemetry and device health feeds into clear visual indicators and predictive status monitors, so problems surface before users reach for the support team.
- Prototyped spatial interactions and UI components in Figma, partnering with cross-functional stakeholders and mobile engineers through sprint planning and demos.
- Conducted structured usability validation and task-based feedback sessions across mixed workplace environments to optimise cognitive load and visual clarity.
